Fast Arrest Made In Motel Holdup

Fast action and cooperation between police departments of Elba and Enterprise paid off Monday night when an armed robbery was reported at the local Riviera Motel.

James Griggs, who owns and operates the motel with his wife, reported to police at 11:50 p.m. that a lone black male, armed with a 38 caliber pistol, entered the office of the motel and demanded his money.

He said he was in the living quarter of the facility at the time, and was awakened by the ringing of a bell, either the door bell or a bell on the counter beside the cash register. Griggs said he gave the man the money, totaling about $635, and including a hundred dollar bill, a fifty dollar bill and the balance in smaller bills. He didn't take the silver from the cash register. The man then placed the money in his left pocket and left.

The robber then returned to his car, parked behind a large transfer truck beside the motel, and drove off, according to Griggs and his wife, who had come into the office at this time.

Mrs. Griggs had started into the room earlier, but her husband heard her and warned her to stay out. She didn't come into the room until after the man left. Their daughter was across the street washing clothes and didn't know what was happening; however, she saw the car parked beside the truck, and thought it unusual but continued with her work.

When leaving the scene the man reportedly drove right in front of the motel office in plain sight of the Griggs couple. They described the car as a red Thunderbird of the early sixties vintage. They watched the driver turn on U.S. 84 and drive toward New Brockton and Enterprise.

Elba police were called and they quickly broadcast a full description of the man and the car he was driving to all surrounding communities. Almost immediately a car fitting the description was stopped in Enterprise. The driver, Lloyd Andrews, age 33, of Daleville, was arrested and charged in the case. Enterprise officers found a considerable amount of money on his person along with a 38 caliber pistol. Andrews was charged with possession of a firearm which is violation of the law, as Andrews is an ex-convict.

Andrews told law officers he once was assigned to the Elba Work Release Center while serving his prison term.

Tuesday morning Elba police found a purple shirt on the roadside near New Brockton that fit the description of the one the robber was wearing at the time of the robbery. They also report tire marks found at the scene closely match those from tires on the car driven by Andrews; footprints found at the scene very closely match those made by jogging shoes worn by Andrews, plus other evidence led to the formal charging of Lloyd Andrews for armed robbery. He was placed in Coffee County jail following the arrest.

Involved in the investigation and arrest included Elba police officers Debra Prescott and Robert Ross, Deputy Sheriff Roger Boothe also Griggs explains how robbery took place.

English Wins Elba Mayor's Race

A record 1321 people returned to the polls Tuesday and elected Bob English as the new mayor of Elba. English won the runoff against City Councilman Jimmy Wise by a vote of 788 to 533, or with about 60% of the vote. English had led in the first primary over four opponents. These four were all veteran politicians, while English was a political newcomer. The four included the current mayor, a former mayor, a present city councilman, and a former city councilman.

The new administration will take office the first Tuesday in October; however, the present administration has shown signs of working closely with the newly-elected officials to insure a smooth transition. They have also sought the opinions of the newly-elected councilmen in making decisions that affect the city operation into the next administration.

Repairs Started On County Courthouses

The Coffee County Commission met in regular session on Monday, July 28, 1980, at the Courthouse in Elba, and amid the noise of saws and hammering, conducted a short, but productive meeting.

The noise was the result of general repairs being done to the courthouses, including the replacing of windows and doors, painting and plastering of the walls and refinishing the floors. The repairs are being made at both courthouses at a local cost of $20,000, and should be completed in two weeks.

Monday's meeting began at 10:00, and the first order of business was to open bids for data processing services. Bids were received from: Computers & Systems, Inc. - 16 cents per tag receipt, and Couch, Inc. - 1 cent per receipt in 1980 and 50 cent per receipt next year. The tax collector will need approximately 18,000 receipts per year, and by law he had to have each receipt machine printed. Thus, it was decided to have the receipts computer printed, and invitations to bid were sent out. The commission voted to accept the low bid.

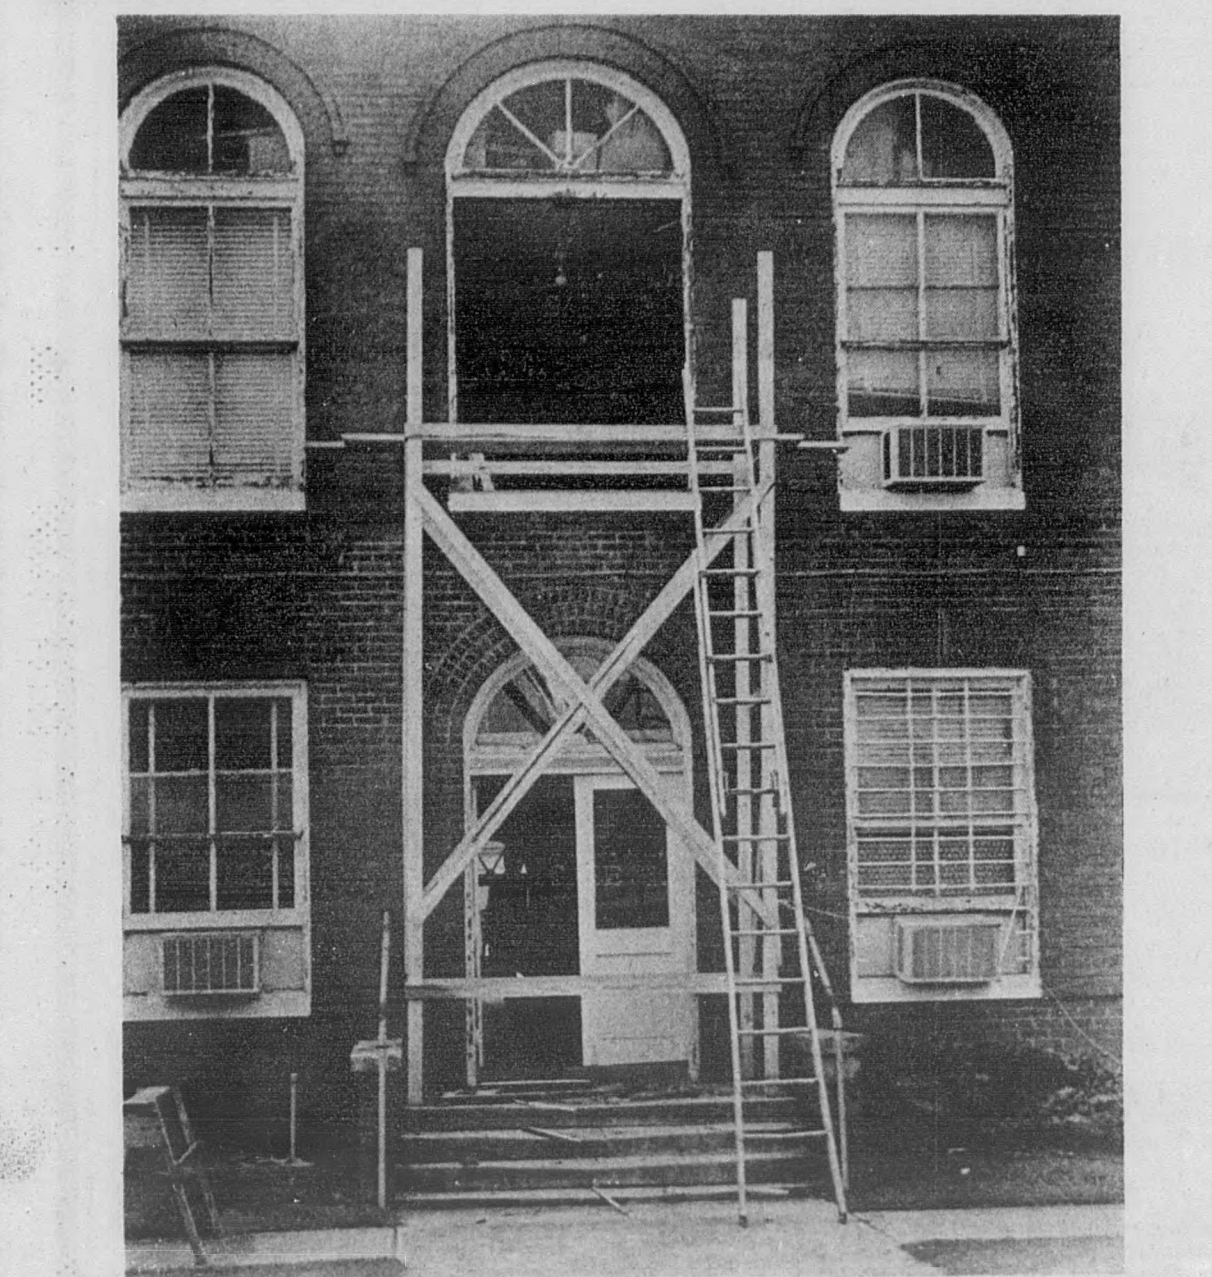

Mr. Ronald A. Haller, a representative of the Southeast Alabama Rehabilitation Center, was at Monday's meeting seeking funding from the commission.

"I'd like to thank the commission for offering us time," said Haller, "and I'd like to speak to you about our budget. We get 40% of our operating funds from the state and federal government, but their funds are decreasing every year. We have a local need of $59,890 from the counties in this area, and Coffee County's share would be $7,187."

There are presently 3 people from Elba at the center, and the dollar amount was computed by the expenses per student. The center, in its 54th year, is totally funded by volunteers, and it teaches handicapped people to be self-supporting. The commission took no action, but promised to consider the request when planning next year's budget.

In other action at Monday's meeting, the commission:

- ***was invited to attend a Business Machine Show on July 31, 1980, in Opp, at the Cross Trails Library;
- ***agreed to check into a request to work a road and install a sewer pipe on the old Smith Road, so, a house can be built on the road;
- ***was asked to appoint two county residents to serve on the Southeast Alabama Health Systems Agency (one white and one non-white);
- ***was reminded that Judge Sawyer and Comm. Rex Bouwell would attend a seminar on "Hiring & Firing" in Montgomery on July 29;
- ***received a letter from the Association of County Commissioners of Alabama stating the cost of a new state-wide health insurance plan to start September 1, 1980;
- ***approved a request by Comm. Gilmer Grant to install a ramp for the handicapped at both courthouses and also provide reserved parking;
- ***agreed to enter into an agreement with Biological Fly Control to eliminate the fly problem at the landfill;
- ***stated anyone caught using county equipment without proper authorization would be prosecuted;
- ***sent out invitations to bid on cutting grass on county right-of-way in Districts 2 and 4;
- ***and, went into "Executive Session" to discuss a recently terminated employee.

There are presently 3 people from Elba at the center, and the dollar amount was computed by the expenses per student. The center, in its 54th year, is totally funded by volunteers, and it teaches handicapped people to be self-supporting. The commission took no action, but promised to consider the request when planning next year's budget.

City Council Plans To Move Into New Building

Councilman Charles Kennett is shown peeling off a bank related window sticker last Friday afternoon as the Elba City Council met in the newly purchased Elba Exchange Bank building to lay plans for moving the city hall into the facility.

Mayor Bob Folsom called the special council meeting and invited the newly elected members of the council to participate in the planning.

BRAINSTORMS

With Ferrin Cox

Apparently the national Republican party didn't get too mad with Alabama's Fob James for turning Democratic and running for governor, 'cause they borrowed his "new beginning" slogan as their own this year. A Republican candidate took wife Bobby's $1,000 as we mentioned last week, and now we have some folks who are suggesting (not so quietly) that we give them Fob... that is providing they will take him away from Alabama.

The State of Alabama is moving forward with plans for a new office building to be located just behind the state capitol. This new building was discussed several years ago but got bogged down in politics after charges of "fast buck" and arm-twisting surfaced. This time no such thing has happened. Working hard Committee Chairman Jimmy Holley (yes, our Jimmy) got all details straight, and his committee turned the facts and figures over to the state finance director and property is now being purchased. Holley quotes facts that constructing this building will consolidate business and will save the taxpayers money, 'cause we are renting office space all over Montgomery, and some of it is at pretty fancy rates.

Before this article reaches the readers a new mayor will have been elected in Elba. We consider both candidates our friend and both truly interested and qualified to be a positive force for Elba. Both have something to offer the people of Elba. We have expressed to both the candidates that we like the storybook ending where the winner reaches out and suggests to the loser "help me make Elba better," and then... the loser says "OK, what can I do to help." Elba is unique in having two highly qualified candidates in a run-off, many, many small (and large) communities in our state can't boast of such quality on the ballot. Let's put them both to work.

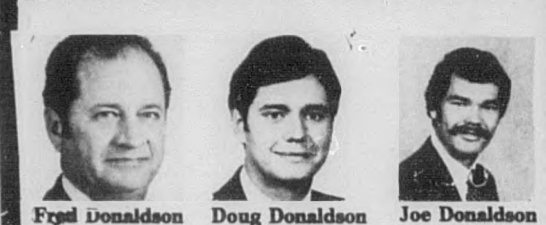

The Shah is dead but don't expect to see 52 Americans coming home from Iran. Demands for the return of the deposed leader were only excuses for the trouble in Iran, and now they will think of something else. We are apparently still a long way from seeing the incident resolved, and even longer in forgetting it.

The draft registration is moving forward amid limited protest. There ain't a lot of protesting but there ain't a lot of registering either. We have noticed a few local youths born in 1960 and 1961 signing up at the local post office, but we sure haven't seen a long line nor has the post office had to hire extra help to handle paperwork!

The rain that hit this area Monday afternoon was long, slow and welcome. We have had scattered, hard showers for the past week or so, but this Monday rain was the first that helped everyone with the kind of shower special ordered for a dry peanut or soybean field. It would also help a vegetable garden if any has survived the dry weather.

Several Alabama cities have had complaints of wrongdoing in elections and most center around absentee voters. We have watched the absentee voting in Elba (both the first time and in this runoff) and feel confident there was not, is not, and will not be, any such activity here. City Clerk Jack Prescott is trying to go by the book so hard he some time squawks as he moves! Monday when we knew he had read the recent newspaper accounts of investigations into this matter, we informed him we were launching an investigation into the local affairs. Jack wasn't worried about any investigation, he was worried about the people he had offended from day to day as he tried to follow the law concerning the distribution of the ballots. OK Jack you done good... this time.

VIEWS FROM

THE PRESSBOX

Byr Ricky Mulare

Ten of Elba's 14 men's softball teams competed in District tournaments last weekend, and 5 teams earned spots in the state tourney. The Little Beaver and Dorsey Trailers both made it to state in Class B, and both will get to compete at beautiful Lagoon Park in Montgomery.

The People's Bank won the Class C District and will journey to state along with Zion Chapel and Grimes Oil next weekend when the tourney kicks off in Dothan.

Foxfire Sporting Goods is competing this week in Women's State at Lagoon Park, and that means 6 teams from our little town made it to state. Not bad for a country league!

The Women's Open Tourney was held last week in Tuscaloosa and the Dothan Dots claimed the state championship, followed by the Miller Lite Eagles. Both teams will now advance to the U.S. Regionals set for August 15-17 at Tampa.

In the Men's Open, the only locals to place were C & M Sporting Goods (4th) and Kentucky Fried Chicken (5th).

Football practice opens around the state on Monday, August 4, and that means Coach Mack Wood's Elba Tigers will swing into action. Elba will go out in shorts for 3 days, and then strap on the pads and get down to serious work in preparation for their season opener on September 5 against Geneva. I'm looking for another good year, and I'm ready for the season to start!

I watched the Braves on TV Sunday and had to laugh as they got bombed by Philadelphia 17-4. The Braves aren't really that bad, but on Sunday, they put on quite a comedy.

Got to go . . . .

Joe Parrish, farmer and Technician Jimmy Clark check stand of bahiagrass on newly planted field.

Coffee County Conservation News

MORE PASTURE NEEDED

Joe Parrish, Batten's X Roads community recently planted 20 acres of bahiagrass on land that was eroded and unproductive. He now has a good stand of bahiagrass and cows are grazing on this land. Bahiagrass is the best adapted grass for continued grazing we have in Coffee County. It can be maintained with a minimum of fertilization as compared to coastal bermudagrass or some of the more exotic species of grasses.

Joe can plan to graze a cow and calf per acre of bahiagrass on this land with good management. He can graze from early April to late October with little or no supplemental feed. This provides inexpensive weight gains and during moderate to good prices he can expect a good profit. Even during low prices he can postpone fertilization for a year with bahiagrass which is impossible without stand damage on coastal.

Many farmers around the county have plowed up fields or bahiagrass to plant peanuts this is an excellent rotation, however, if bahiagrass is planted somewhere else, there will be none to rotate in to future years. Also many of these fields need to be planted back to grass because erodibility, sandiness or wetness.

When cow prices were low for such a long period, livestock farmers cut back on their herds and increased row crops, however, the prices for cows are back up and those fields that produce pasture grasses better than row crops need to be planted back. Cost sharing programs are available to plant grass which will pay 75% of the cost. If you are interested in planting some land to pasture or hayland contact your local SCS office at 894-6332.

COFFEE CORRESPONDENCE With Sara Hutchinson

FAT Almost anyone who has fat spots, particularly around waist lines and hips, wants to reduce those areas without reducing any other area of the body. This is what is called "spot" reducing-getting rid of unwanted fat spots. Unfortunately, there isn't a gimmick or exercise that reduces fat spots on a permanent basis.

A current gimmick for so-called spot reducing is the sauna belt. When someone uses one of the belts, fluid from the tissue under it is forced into surrounding areas for a short time. It's the same effect a stretch watchband has when it's too tight on your wrist. When you leave it off for a while the reduced or depressed area returns to normal.

Beside the fact it doesn't reduce fat tissue, it can cause injury. Normally, when you exercise, your body temperature increases. With loose clothing, the extra heat is dissipated and doesn't harm you. With a sauna belt there's no place for the heat to go. So, temperature under it increases and increases. We have some evidence to suggest this extra heat does a good bit of damage to your internal organs.

SQUASH Add thin slices of raw squash to tossed salads. Also, raw squash slices or pieces make excellent dips for vegetable and relish trays.

You can eat squash blossoms. Simply wash them and then saute them in margarine until wilted. Then, lightly salt.

When cooking outdoors, another idea is to combine sliced summer squash, onions, margarine, salt and your favorite spices. Wrap them in foil and place on the grill. Depending on the heat of the fire, they should be ready in 30 to 40 minutes.

GRADES U-S prime, U-S grade A-A, Fancy, U-S Grade, U-S Choice...are you confused by all the different grade names that are used on foods?

If so, the U. S. Department of Agriculture wants your comments. Currently, U-S-D-A graders determine the levels of quality for foods such as meat, poultry, eggs, dairy products, fruits and vegetables. Then they apply a variety of official grade names. The grading system is voluntary and paid for by food processors.

However, research indicates the present grading system confuses consumers. To make the grading system less confusing, the U-S-D-A has developed a number of proposed options to change and then saute them in margarine until wilted. Then, lightly salt.

To find out more about how your comments can help, write to F-S-Q-S, at 1718 Peachtree Street, Northwest, Room 206, Atlanta, Georgia 30309.

ALL AROUND COFFEE COUNTY

County Farm Agent

FRUSTRATED

Monday of last week the weather service said we had a 60 percent chance of rain, about a 70 percent chance on Wednesday, and a 50 percent on Thursday. During that four-day period we didn't get a bucketful of rain in the county.

Then about 9:00 Thursday night, I was out walking off some of my frustrations. I have never seen a moon that was brighter or a sky that was clearer. It just made me believe that the excellent rain chances which had were gone.

But Friday morning and afternoon there were dense clouds again. I just hope that the temperatures, the winds, and the fronts can all get together this week to make the fields boggy.

SOYBEAN WEEDS Soybean growers are having a battle with cocklebur, morningglory, and coffee weeds. For safe control of cocklebur and morningglory, we recommend Basagran at the rate of at least a quart per acre broadcast. If you are treating a 15 to 18 inch band, of course a pint would be enough to get good control.

The key to good weed control with Basagran and the other herbicides, too, is to use plenty of water to insure complete coverage. If the material doesn't get on the plant, it won't kill it.

As soybeans get taller, you can use directed sprays to control the grasses, coffee weeds and other low-growing weed pests. Loro is very effective on coffee weeds and a number of other grasses and weeds when applied as a directed spray. We have full information on weed control in soybeans. Call us, and we will help.

HOG PRICES Better news for Coffee County hog producers! And certainly it is time they had better news. 1981 could develop into a fairly good year. Indications are that the breeding herds throughout the country have been cut by 8-10 percent. We should see much improved prices in 1981. In fact, the better prices could continue on into 1982 and 1983.

Pork consumption is up this year about 10 pounds or to about 75 pounds per person. This is to be expected, of course, when the price is low and some other meats are relatively high. For over a year now most pork producers have lost money. Consumers, though, still have some excellent buys in pork.

ALCOHOL PRODUCTION The University of Alabama and Auburn University both have alcohol production workshops scheduled during the next 90 days. If you are interested in getting a schedule of these production meetings, call us at 894-5596 or 897-2776. We will mail you the times and dates.

The purpose of these meetings, which are being conducted on the university campuses, is to provide interested individuals with the basics of producing ethanol fuel. Basic information such as mash preparation, still design and operation will be provided. Equipment and machinery used in manufacturing units will be shown.

Incidentally, for most of these seminars those enrolled will get experience in preparing a batch of mash and in actually operating some of the commercial alcohol stills that are in operation now on the campuses.

FARM SAFETY The seven-day period which began Friday has been designated as National Farm Safety Week. Fortunately, we have not had any fatal accidents in Coffee County recently even though we do have people who have lost fingers and toes. Nation wide hundreds of thousands of farm people are involved in accidents each year.

Safety leaders know that accidents and injuries can be effectively reduced by being more careful in work habits. In proclaiming National Farm Safety Week President Carter said, "I urge the nation's farmers to adopt safe and sensible work practices and to remove unnecessary home and work place hazards."

Class Of 60 Holds Reunion

Forty nine members of the Elba High School graduating class of 1960 recently held their first reunion. The class met in the cafeteria of the Elba Middle School. The class members met for an informal re- acquaintance hour prior to the dinner hour. Many interesting stories were heard about expanding waistlines and receding hair lines. During the dinner hour each member was called upon to tell the group about their lives during the past twenty years.

Helene Cowen, Patsy Boutwell, and Bobby King co-ordinated the event. The cafeteria was beautifully decorated. One area that seemed to attract quite a bit of attention was a trivia board that contained information about class members.

Door prizes and gifts were presented to several class members who had made special efforts to attend the reunion. Olver Carney was given special recognition for the greatest distance to attend. She now resides in Pennsylvania.

The class had as their special guests administrators and faculty from Elba High School of 1960. Those attending were Mr. Elmer Taylor, Marion Brunson, Mrs. Ola B. Kendrick, Mrs. Catherine Spurlin, and Miss Zedie Rowe.

(1) Own and occupy the dwelling to which repairs or improvements are to be made.

(2) Be without sufficient income to qualify for a Section 502 loan.

(3) Have sufficient income including any welfare-type payments, to repay the loan, except that if the applicant's income is not sufficient to pay the loan, he or she may qualify by obtaining an acceptable co-signer.

Section 504 loans are made at an interest rate of one percent. Loans of not more than $1500 may be repaid over a period of 10 years; loans of $1500 but not more than $2500 may be repaid over a period of 15 years; and loans of more than $2500 may be repaid over a period not to exceed 20 years from the date of the note.

A grant may be made to an applicant who is 62 years of age or older; has income so low that he or she cannot repay any part of the Section 504 loan; the repairs and improvements are not for cosmetic purposes but are necessary to make the dwelling safe and sanitary and/or remove health hazards to the occupants, their families, or the community.

Mr. Johnson remarked, "There is much talk about inadequate housing but we don't find people requesting the assistance which is available. With the increased funds in this year's budget, I believe FmHA will be able to help many families in Coffee County who are now living in substandard housing."

If you think you qualify for the assistance or desire additional information, please contact the Coffee County Office located in the Agricultural Center in New Brockton. Telephone 894-5594 or 897-2776.

***The thoughtful Carolyn Brunson, along with Tom, Alice, Bill, and Betty had the Sunday look in every nook and cranny of the lovely Brunson home. They were host & hostess for a special occasion on this special day.

The golden wedding theme was evident in the simplicity and arrangements of the floral decorations throughout the entertainment areas. A three-tiered wedding cake graced a special place of honor.

Golden wedding bells with golden streamers were gently waving in the breeze. They were giving a welcome to the special guests who had arrived before the honored couple made their appearance.

The special guests, like the Raymond Elliotts of Opp, and several out of town couples, who had been in the Navy with the honorees, were seated here and there. The kindred were useful and assisted.

Bill announced the arrival of the honored couple. There were not more than two of Elba's favorites—Harris and Clair Winston. It was their golden wedding anniversary. Harris parked the car cautiously. He stepped out dressed in black trousers, white shirt, black suspenders and black bow-tie. Yes, he wore the elastic sleeve garters and a white straw hat. On his arm was walking came that complemented his black mustache, goatee and sideburns. He politely opened the door and assisted his bride to the car.

There she stood dressed in a gay-ninety outfit. Tucked into the black floor-length taffeta skirt was a white demure handmaiden lace and ruffled blouse with a big muton blouse. A lovely solitaire diamond brooch complimented the outfit. The black sash and button-top shoes added elegance to Clair Ham Winston's appearance for this celebration.

The arm-in-arm, made a grand entrance into the foyer. There had been a lively wedding music, but now the halcyon greetings, compliments, and good wishes were in order. Merriment and fun continued for a period of time.

Finally, Harris and Clair spoke some appreciative words and many compliments. However, Harris admitted there had been only two times in his life that he lost complete control of himself—and they were his wedding day and his 50th wedding anniversary.

The Brunson family proved life is not so short that there is always time enough for courtesies and memorable occasions for deserving people like Aunt Clair and Uncle Harris.

But they would come—that is, if there were two available, and they didn't have to come alone.

Wayne and Paul live in the Zion Chapel Community. They have proven to be a useful and thoughtful family. I was dining Mrs. Dwight Kelley, when by chance, I got Wayne. However, I was enthused to visit with her. She had just returned from attending revival services at Hebron Baptist Church.

Paul was relaxed in his favorite spot on the porch, more or less baby sitting. Two of her granddaughters, Stacy Black and Jennifer Flowers, were spending the night. There is one more
